This Haven Hill Symposium will be a data-driven exploration of how investing in women benefits society and business. Plans are underway for replicating this program in Washington, DC.

Sponsorship offers an unprecedented opportunity for innovative companies to show leadership in the equality space and to help their clients navigate this territory in a positive way – driven by data and not by emotion. Created for c-suite executives, decision-makers and UN dignitaries, the takeaway of the symposium will be an increase in knowledge and a shift in perspective around what can be done when men and women work together as equals. For all attendees, networking and sharing ideas will be a big part of this event. Attendees will also receive a Haven Hill - Level One Certification on Equality.
